DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

 The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- Claims 7 and 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saito et al. 2003/0110803

Saito discloses a method for manufacturing a glass substrate for an information recording medium, the manufacturing method comprising: a first washing step for washing a surface of a disk-shaped glass plate with an acid washing liquid (¶0057, line 1; and (¶0059), wherein an altered surface layer is formed on the surface of the glass substrate by the first washing step; a step for grinding at least part of the altered surface layer with abrasion grains to remove at least part of the altered surface layer (¶0057 and (¶0058); and a second washing step for washing the surface with an alkaline washing liquid (¶0058, line 12), wherein the altered surface layer formed by acidic washing in the first washing step is removed by the step for grinding and the second washing step.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 3723

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

 Claim 10 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito et al. in view of Matsuno et al. 2003/0109202

Saito et al. is described above. Saito et al. does not specifically disclose the first washing step including immersing the glass plate in a strong acid solution and then immersing the glass plate in a strong alkaline solution. Matsuno et al. discloses a discloses a method for manufacturing a glass substrate wherein the first washing step comprises immersing the glass plate in a strong acid solution and then immersing the glass plate in a strong alkaline solution so as to thoroughly remove the (projecting) layer that has been altered by the acidic solution. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have made the apparatus of Saito et al. to have immersed the glass plate in a strong acid solution and then immerse the glass plate in a strong alkaline solution as taught by Matsuno et al. so as to thoroughly remove the (projecting) layer that has been altered by the acidic solution.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 8 and 11-18 are allowed.

Art Unit: 3723

Response to Arguments

 Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7, 9 and 10 have been considered but are moot. The reason being that although US Patent No. 2003/0110803 to Saito et al. discloses the claimed method steps, the paragraphs were cited were incorrect.
